

Unusual Hobbyists Will Be On Elman's Program Friday

Man Who Teaches Canaries To Whistle Tunes, Collector Of Shrunk Human Heads To Tell Of Exploits

J. S. Reid, of Birmingham, Ala., whose hobby is training canaries to whistle tunes, and who boasts of one that has a complete repertoire, will be a guest star on Dave Elman's "Hobby Lobby" program Saturday at 8:30 p. m. over WABC.

Among the other hobbyists will be Mrs. E. Shorrock, of Dorchester, Mass., who collects shrunken human heads and skulls as a pastime; Landon T. Morris, of Washington, D. C., a boy preacher whose hobby is saving souls to the accompaniment of an accordion; and Sydney A. Eisenberg, of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, who collects unusual newspaper clippings.

Dale Carnegie may know how to win friends and influence people, but when it comes to barter he turns to the WJZ "Swop Nite." At least that's the story. Allen (Low Man On A Totam Pole) Smith tells, for he says Carnegie will appear on "Swop Nite" Saturday, when it goes on the air at 8:30 p. m.

Judge Harry S. McDevitt, presiding judge of Common Pleas Court No. 1, Philadelphia, and Selma Royle, well-known stage and radio actress, will attempt to race Ellery Queen to the solution of "The Adventure of the Black Syndicate" as the guest armchair detectives on Saturday, at 7:30 p. m. over WEAJ.

Breaking a self-imposed rule that no audiences be allowed for his Treasury Hour concerts, Arturo Toscanini will fling the doors open for more than 1,000 soldiers, sailors, marines, fliers, and their wives and sweethearts, when he conducts the NBC Symphony orchestra for the fifth time on behalf of the defense bond and stamp drive on Saturday at 9:00 p. m. over WJZ.
