

"Hobby Lobby" Show To Be On Good Neighbor Policy

Dave Elman To Have Prominent Celebrities Of South America As Guests On Program At 8:30 P. M. Saturday

Working in cooperation with the United States government in its neighborly relations policy between North and South America, Dave Elman will dedicate his "Hobby Lobby" program, Saturday at 8:30 p. m. over WABC to the friendship of all the Americas. Prominent celebrities of South American origin will be guest stars on this Salute program.

Alfonzo D'Artega, famous orchestra leader, who collects rare melodies of South America and Dr. George M. Corbacho, Peruvian historian, who spends much of his spare time collecting famous South American documents, will be among the guests on this special broadcast.

Blond, soft-spoken Craig Wood, U. S. Open golf champ and defending titlist in the Masters' Tournament, will tear aside the cloak of reticence and talk to the microphone Saturday, when he appears as Bill Stern's guest on the "Sports Newsreel of the Air" at 10 p. m. over WEAJ.

tale in which two watchmen become snowbound at a mountain tavern, has been selected by Nelson Olmsted for his story-drama broadcast Saturday, at 11:15 p. m. over WEAJ. The story is a study in psychology in that it shows how the imagination of one man drives him insane after the other has failed to return from a hunting expedition.

Mysteries of Quetzalcoatl, "the feathered snake that walks on the waters"; Itzumna, the Sun-God, and the esoteric rites of ancient Mayan religion are revealed to the heroes of "Down Mexico Way" Saturday, at 4 p. m. over WEAJ. Richard Kolmar as "Adams" the music researcher, Mitzi Gould as "Margarita" and Louis van Rosten as "Pedro" the philosophical taxi driver, have had high adventure with gorgeous and historic old Mexico as a background—but nothing quite like the thrills in store at Merida, capital of Yucatan, scene of next Saturday's performance.

With Smilin' Ed McConnell as special guest, the "National Barn Dance" gang will salute with a program of "April Shower" tunes on Saturday, at 9 p. m. over WEAJ. The show will open with a medley made up of "Singing in the Rain," "Let a Smile Be Your Umbrell" and "April Showers."
