

Edna May Oliver To Be On Vallee's Program Thursday

Grand Old Lady Of The Screen To Toss Party For Entertainers; Joan Davis Ready To Fill Most Any Old Role

A choice example of master mind casting comes to light Thursday at 10 p. m. over WEAJ when Rudy Vallee, radio's original crooner, and John Barrymore, actor, will be cast as a crooner and actor respectively.

This broad display of production genius occurs when Guest Star Edna May Oliver, comedienne and grand old lady of the screen, tosses a swank party for her friends and hires Rudy to croon and John to act. Just what Joan Davis will be called on to do is anyone's guess.
