The return to pagan gods, a program based on the Nazi's attempt to destroy existing faiths and replace them with paganism, will be the subject of WPR's "This Is Our Enemy" program on Sunday at 10:30 p. m. over WOR. Bernard C. Schoenfeld authors the series, which is being directed by Frank K. Telford, with original music by Russell Bennett.

Roris Karloff becomes a wolf in black sheep's clothing, when he plays the title role in "The Gray Wolf," thrilling "Inner Sanctum Mystery" broadcast to be heard Sunday at 8:30 p. m. over WJZ. The program adds 14 stations to its hook-up with this broadcast, in which Karloff portrays a strange character who was reared by a pack of wolves and who never quite got over some of the habits he developed in his youthful environment. Betty Kinkler is cast as the young lady who can't understand why he howls at the moon. Sigmund Miller is author of the story; Hi Brown directs.

Following a trial of hazardous adventure, David Harding, daring young government agent, will discover the unknown spot in this country to which Axis spies are being flown from Mexico during the "Counterspy" series Monday, at 10:00 p. m., over WJZ.

Raymond Massey, the distinguished actor, famous for his performance in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," takes the part of "The Farmer," the first of Stephen Vincent Benet's new "Dear Adolf" series on Sunday, at 5 p. m. over WEAF.

Lionel Barrymore will be narrator on the Rudy Vallee program when it is heard on "The Victory Parade" on NBC Sunday, June 21, at 7 p. m., (EWT). Other stars

NITE LIFE FO

THE ALPHA--Quite the vortex for week-end celebrations, to say nothing of day-in-day-out part time relaxation. Provision is made for round and square dancing with special sound effects on the solo-vox.

ROXY GRILL—Superior substance sustained here.

GLENDALE GARDENS—All good stuff. Jim and Nena are the directors.

ALPINE VILLAGE—George and Co. point pridefully to the fact that at no time are patrons subjected to covert charge yet the entertainment goes on constantly.

WALDO--Now open from 10.30 a. m. to 2.30 a. m. Special dispensation at noon lunch and dinner time.

CASTLE FARM—Greatly enhanced floor shows are increasing the popularity of this Delphos-rd retreat. Always possessed of great drawing powers the entertainment program lately has exceeded even the expectations of patrons on the prowl.

BLINKING OWL—A good thing.

NEWYORKER--Food-stuffs are receiving much attention these days, from sugar on up, but no more so than the care given the menu by Nick and his New Yorker compatriots. The grog's good, too.

will be Charles Laughton, Groucho Marx and Gloria Warren.

It begins to look as if things are serious between Charlie McCarthy and Judy Garland. At any rate, Charlie has dated Judy for the broadest of Sunday at 8 p. m. over WEAF, this being his third date with the petite singing star in recent months. Ergo, the foregoing conclusion.

HOT WEATHER STORY

CAIRO, Egypt, June 20—(AP) —The Berlin radio claim that Nazis were using refrigerated tanks in the Libyan desert was labeled "a hot weather story" by British armored vehicle officers today. The same story circulated in Egypt last summer, they said, and recurs every time the temperature reaches 120 degrees. Captured German tanks, the officers said, have fans but no refrigeration plants.
