Tuesday

Honestly—her name is Twinkle Watts! and she is a champion bowler! This strange human energy will be one of Dave Elman's Lobby Tuesday, at 8:30 p. m. over WABC who will appear on the program will include a college boy whose unusual hobby is cranial osteopathy; a man who can read a map full of odd impedimenta; the only U. S. world celestial navigation and piloting; and a man who can reproduce anything from a baby's cry to a complete aerial dog-fight on his accordion.

Twinkle Watts had to do strenuous exercise to banish a bulge which baffled her doctors. She became so proficient in bowling that she entered the Women's National Bowling competition when she was five! She is now seven, weighs 42 pounds, and bowls well up in the 200 brackets with a 10½ pound ball. Her collection of odd facts about bowling are regarded as astounding.

A strange case of love and murder in which a man's life hangs by the strap with which he is accused of strangling his wife, will be presented during "Famous Jury Trials" on Tuesday, at 9:00 p. m., over WJZ.

Something new in the way of program features will be introduced on WABC Are You A Missing Heir program Tuesday at 8 p. m. when Janet L. Roper, for more than 45 years secretary of the Seaman's Institute, guest on the program in a special recruiting program routine. Mrs. Roper, who is more than 70 years old, will compare shipboard conditions today with those of the secretary of the Roper, called thousands of more than not entirely worldly possessed instructions as an event the sailor her is lost at
