

FDR, Camacho, Quezon Speak at 4 P. M. Today

Three Presidents Will Observe Philippine Day

Presidents of the United States, Mexico, and the Philippines will speak at 4 p. m. today in a joint observation of Philippine Commonwealth day over all major networks.

In this area, the program will be carried by WMAQ, WBBM, and WGN at the scheduled time, while WENR will join in the broadcast at 4:18.

Enya Gonzalez, Philippine soprano, will open the program from Washington. Pres. Manuel L. Quezon of the Philippine commonwealth will speak next, and the U. S. marine band will play his national anthem. Pres. Manuel Avila Camacho will speak next in Spanish, from Mexico City.

A talk by Pres. Roosevelt will wind up the observance. WIBA will air Roosevelt's talk at 9:30 tonight.
