

Bowl Game Broadcasts To Feature Friday's Airways

"The Master Map Of America" Is Title Of Drama Which Will Be Presented On Kate Smith Hour

The annual Rose Bowl championship football game, climax of the Tournament of Roses, will be broadcast by WEAF Friday, (4:45-7:30 p. m.) Bill Stern and Ken Carpenter will be the reporters.

The roar of spectators, shrill blast of the referee's whistle and the thud of toe meeting pigskin will echo over WJZ Friday when a play-by-play account of the South's annual New Year's Day football classic—the Sugar Bowl game is presented at 3:15 p. m.

The story of America, as gleaned from a bloodless map of the United States, will be told in dramatic form during the Kate Smith hour on Friday, at 8 p. m., over WABC when Kate presents as a highlight of the show an original radio drama by Paul Woodridge. Entitled "The Master Map of America," the drama will feature Kate, Ted Collins and a well known ra-

day, at 7:30 p. m. over WEAF.

With more big names to come the sponsor of an hour announces Cornelia Otis Skinner, Roland Young, Lew Lehr, Herb Shriner, Lanny Ross, Xavier Cugat and Georgia Gibbs in a special New Year's Day broadcast Friday at 10 p. m. via WABC.

A letter from a lad at a distant fighting front to a worried and anxious father on the production front, begging the latter not to worry over his safety, will background the "Men, Machines and Victory" drama to be heard Friday, at 10:45 p. m., over WJZ.

MAGNESIUM PRODUCTION UP

United States production of magnesium, a light metal used in aircraft and in explosives, is scheduled to reach a rate of 725,000,000 pounds a year, 100 times 1939 output and eight or nine times that of Axis countries.
