

New Songstress Set For Jolson-Woolley Program

Three Quiz Masters To Face Trio Of Hunter College Professors In "Battle Of Sexes"

The Al Jolson-Monty Woolley program will originate from Hollywood studios Tuesday, 8:30 p. m. E.W.T. WABC with a brand new songstress, Jo Stafford; a new orchestra, Gordon Jenkins'; and a new announcer, Carlton Kadell. It will be Miss Stafford's first big opportunity as a solo star.

An apple for the teacher might be a good investment for the three quiz masters who face three Hunter college professors on "Battle of the Sexes" Tuesday, over WEAJ at 9 p. m. EWT. The women, all expert at answering unanswerable questions, are Prof. Mina Rees, teacher of algebra; Grace Carhart, instructor in Geology; and Dr. Helaine Newstadt of the English department. Bob Hawk and Budd Hulick, with a third quizzer to be announced, will have the tables turned on them by fast talking Walter O'Keefe.

Because it was Boyd Harlan's gun that killed Otto Alder, and because Harlan was found leaning over the corpse he was arraigned and tried for murder in a case to be presented during "Famous Jury Trials," Tuesday at 9 p. m., EWT, over WJZ.

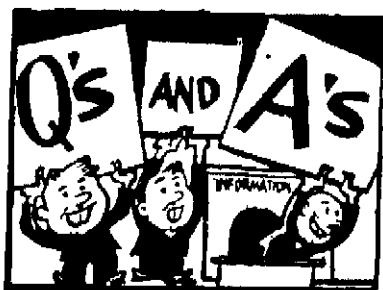

Fred Waring will introduce his new song dedicated to Marine aviators entitled "A Toast to the Corps in the Air" on his "Pleasure Time with Victory Tunes" broadcast, Tuesday, over WEAJ at 7 p. m., EWT. The program will be made up of songs chosen by the Marines at the U. S. Marine Base, Cherry Point, N. C.

Russ Morgan and his orchestra will appear on the "Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands" on WJZ Tuesday at 9:30 p. m., EWT, when he will play for the men at Jefferson Barracks in St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. Roy Shield will whip up a delectable musical dish for his "Roy Shield and Co." program Tuesday over WEAJ at 12:05 p. m., EWT. He'll offer such orchestra numbers as "Maybe," "It's Always You" and "More Than You Know," the latter highspotting the strings.

TUESDAY, MARCH 30

Eastern War Time P.M.—Subtract One Hour for CWT—2 Hrs. for MWT.

Q—I am giving up housekeeping while my husband is in service. May I give away my rationed goods?

A—No. You may not give away any rationed food unless you are sharing the meal where this food is being served.

* * *

Q—What was the forgotten branch of the British armed services in the valiant defense of Malta?

A—British infantrymen were on guard night and day lest the enemy land troops by parachute or aircraft. All the stress in the defense of Malta was on the air and anti-aircraft services.

* * *

Q—Is mail to servicemen in the continental U. S. censored?

A—No, but it is within the authority of local defense commanders to censor it if they think it necessary to the safety and defense of the nation. In war zones and outlying bases, mail is censored both ways, of course.

* * *

Q—The limit of ownership of war bonds is $5000 a year. Is this cost price or maturity value?

A—Maturity value. The limit is $3750 cost price for each calendar year to any one person.

* * *

Q—Does a royal spade flush beat a royal club flush in poker?

A—No. The pot is "split" since suits have no rank in poker.