

Parade Of Stars Appear On Tuesday Radio Show

The armed forces everywhere will have a merry Christmas in entertainment with special radio shows patterned for them. One of the brightest is the all-star broadcast scheduled over WABC Tuesday at 9 p. m., EST. The roster of artists reads like a "Who's Who" in the amusement field. Pataking before the microphone will be Edgar Bergen and his Hollywoodhead, Charlie McCarthy; Fred Allen, Bob Burns, Dorothy Lamour, Don Ameche, Joe Huthi, Ray Noble's orchestra and Spike Jones' City Slickers. There'll also be talks by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard and Dr. Robert R. Williams, synthesizer of Vitamin B1. Pickups will be made in Hollywood, New York and Pascagoula, Miss.

Quentin Reynolds, war reporter and author, will bring a stirring wartime story to "Salute to Youth" Tuesday—a story of Christmas for American fliers in England (WEAF, 6:30 p. m., EST). The story concerns a not so hard boiled sergeant gunner of the bomber "Saafu Sue" and the little English orphan girl for whom the crew gave a party. A distinguished cast will re-enact the true story.

A Christmas story, sub-titled "Journey to Life," will be heard on the "Big Town" program, Tuesday, 7 p. m., EST, over WABC. It is the story of a glamorous girl heiress who has decided that life isn't worth living now that the last of her family, her brother, has been reported missing in action. What Steve Wilson, Managing Editor of the Illustrated Press, the star reporter Loretta Kilbourne do to change the poor little rich girl's outlook on life, makes a tender and fascinating holiday-time story.

At 79 Wistful Vista, the McGee family at 8:30 p. m., EST, coming of Santa, with Fibber letting loose with more corn than a Christmas tree has light. Uncle Dennis will also have his usual package of Christmas cheer. (WEAF, 8:30 p. m., EST).

Figgett's his new tune will get a better take if it's crooned with a broad "a," Ed "Archie"

HOLD EVERYTHING

"Leave it alone—it's probably a booby trap!"

Gardner has engaged Herbert Marshall, the "English Sinatra," to warble the ditty for "Duffy's" patrons, Tuesday, at 7:30 p. m., EST, over WJZ.

NAZIS MAY ORDER BERLIN EVACUATION

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 21—(UP)—German authorities are on the point of ordering complete evacuation of Berlin to avert total destruction of the city by bombing, neutral diplomatic sources said today.

Only dissension between German Minister of the Interior Heinrich Himmler and Propaganda Minister Josef Goebbels was de-
