

"March Of Dimes" To Be Championed In Broadcast

D. Walker Wear, Director of Organization, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, will be the featured participant on the "Double or Nothing" program over WOK on Friday, 8:30-9:00.

The broadcast will be another in the chain of nationally-aired shows championing the 1944 "March of Dimes" appeal.

Ethel Waters, who rose from "blues" singing in night clubs and musical shows to win the critics' acclaim as a top-ranking dramatic actress, will appear as guest star on the Amos 'n' Andy broadcast Friday at 9 p. m. EST over WEAF.

The screen and Ziegfeld Follies butler, Eric Blore, and Kenneth Spencer, who played the Lord's messenger in "Cabin in the Sky," join Fredric March and Florence Eldridge, on "Stage Door Canteen," on Friday at 9:30 p. m. over Station WABC. Spencer is just back from a USO tour overseas. Bert Lylell is emcee, Raymond Paige conducts the orchestra.

"People Are Funny" will prove—or attempt to prove—that people can also be courageous when Emcee Art Linkletter presents the wacky quiz show Friday, WEAF, 8:30 p. m. EST.

Jimmy Durante, featured often in the nose-reefs, says that Garry Moore as an actor is dynamite . . . he's always blowing up in his lines. Moore paraphrases Kipling and asserts that Durante is nothing but a brag, a groan and a tank of air. They've been marking time ever since waiting for Friday when they face each other
