

Cowboy Star Appears In "In Old Oklahoma"

"The King of the Cowboys," Roy Rogers, makes his appearance in the exciting western—"In Old Oklahoma," on Monday. Martha Scott and Albert Dekker will also star in the full-hour dramatic production presented by producer Cecil B. DeMille over WABC at 8 p. m., EST.

Little "Shickelgruber," GI nickname for the Army's new lip microphone, which excludes background noises from radio transmission, will make its network debut when Parks Johnson demonstrates its efficiency on Vox Pop's two-point broadcast on Monday at 7 p. m., EST over WABC.

Gladys Swarthout, glamorous mezzo-soprano of opera, radio and motion pictures, will be guest soloist on the "Great Artists Series" Monday (WEAF, 8 p. m., EST). Donald Voorhees conducts the orchestra.

Cavalcade of America will broadcast an unusual treat for drama and music lovers when Patrice Munsel, 18-year-old Metropolitan opera star, will be heard in "Song From Spokane," her own story. Miss Munsel is the young American girl who made a sensational debut this season by singing the leading role in "Mignon." The broadcast Monday over WEAF is scheduled for 7 p. m.

Blondie and her friend Cora Dithers, as a penalty for failing to deliver a talk on income tax problems for the women's club, are assigned to take their husbands on "Blondie's Leap Year Date," and the results are a hilarious reversal of roles, on Monday at 6:30 p. m., over station WABC.

Tenor Richard Crooks will sing "To The Green Hills of Ireland," "Mother Machree," "Macushla," "My Wild Irish Rose," and other Irish favorites, Monday at 8:30 p. m. EST over WEAF.
