

Ed Wynn's Son Guests On Bing Crosby's Show

Keenan Wynn, actor-son of comedian Ed Wynn, will be the visiting guest star with Bing Crosby on his program to be aired Thursday at 9 p. m., EWT, over WEAf. Marilyn Maxwell is the guest songstress with "The Groaner" on his half-hour show.

Screen lovely Claire Trevor will provide a glamorous foil for Abbott and Costello's tomfoolery when she visits with the comics on their weekly program Thursday, 10 p. m. EWT via WEAf.

To augment Bud and Lou's comic capers revolving around the charming guest, the regular Abbott and Costello cast of Elvira Allman, Ken Niles and Mel Blanc also will be heard. Connie Haines will provide the vocal enchantment accompanied by Freddie Rich's orchestra.

The life of the author of a book that helped bring on the American Revolution was once saved by a strange accident which will be described by the Coronet Storyteller over WJZ Thursday at 9:55 p. m., EWT.

The name of the writer will be revealed during the true tale titled "The Chalk Cross."

With Eddie Blacken in the title role, "Suspense" presents a radio adaptation of the chill-packed best seller, "The Visitor," over Station

WARC on Thursday at 8 p. m. Blacken will be heard as a young man who returns, apparently from the dead, to rejoin his family, in this air version of the book by Carl Randau and Leone Zugsmuth. Since five years have elapsed since the youth was believed drowned, his family suspects that he may be an imposter. His efforts to establish his identity form the basis of a thrilling story.

OVERSEAS MARINES NOW CAN BE TOLD OF BIRTHS

WASHINGTON, May 11 — (AP) — The Marine Corps has eased restrictions governing the transmission of important personal messages to Marines overseas.

Radio messages heretofore have been restricted to deaths in the
