

Falkenburg And Gardner Guest Wednesday Night

Ed Gardner, the "Archie" of "Duffy's Tavern," will appear on the "Soldiers With Wings" broadcast, Wednesday at 10:30 p. m., EWT, over WJZ.

"This here soldiers bailiwick must be able to draw the carriage trade, too," the manager of the bistro south of the tracks commented, when told that his fellow guest on the program would be none other than Jinx Falkenburg.

How would you like to be operated upon by a madman? Lovely thought, isn't it, but that is what actually happened once Marvin Mueller tells the tale on the "Coronet Storyteller" broadcast of Wednesday at 9:55 p. m. over WJZ.

The story is called "Madman's Magic" and it is a recital of how an escaped lunatic deftly and successfully worked on a woman's brain. He may have lost his own head but he saved hers.

Jerry North walks into a florist shop to wire flowers to his wife, Pam, who's still out of town. Instead, he walks out with a bouquet of lilies of the valley, which he didn't want . . . and the bouquet leads to plenty of trouble, as "Jerry Omits Flowers," in the "Mr. and Mrs. North" comedy-drama to be broadcast over Station WEAJ, on Wednesday at 8 p. m. Pam, scriptually speaking, is visiting in Boston, and does not appear in this story. Actually, Alice Frost, who plays the role, is vacationing in Chicago. Joseph Curtin is heard as the other half of "Mr. and Mrs. North."

In connection with the Fifth War Loan Drive, Dunninger will attempt to discover the location of a War Bond Poster autographed by 100 prominent people of this city during his WJZ program Wednesday at 9 p. m., EWT.

The poster, to be drawn by Dave Mink, 1943 winner of the Victory Art Award, will be hidden by the trio of judges somewhere in the Windy City. During the program Dunninger will request the judges to concentrate on the location of
