

Author Of "Mrs. Miniver" "Information Please" Guest

Jan Struther, author of "Mrs. Miniver," and Donald Culross Peattie, naturalist and biographer, will be guest experts on "Information Please" Monday (WEAF 9:30 p. m., EWT). They join regular Experts John Kieran and Franklin P. Adams and Quizmaster Clifton Fadiman.

Jinx Falkenburg, lovely screen and sports star, pinch-hitting on Vox Pop for vacationing Parks Johnson, will team with Warren Hull to interview war veterans and trainees at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Farragut, Idaho, Monday at 8 p. m., EWT, on WARC.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau will be guest speaker on a special "Cavalcade of America" broadcast Monday (WEAF, 8 p. m., EWT) when the program presents a dramatization of America's First War Loan during the Revolution.

Titled "What Price Freedom," this is the story of Robert Morris, American Revolutionary patriot who was called upon in 1781 to straighten out the finances his country. Herbert Marshall, noted actor of stage, screen and radio, portrays Morris in the drama.

Marian Anderson, who was re-

MONDAY, JUNE 26

cently chosen outstanding female vocalist on the air in the Musical America poll, again will be guest soloist on the "Great Artists Series" Monday (WEAF 9 p. m., EWT).

Terrific competition between many of Boston's most beautiful lassies is currently in progress in a newspaper to select 100 girls to be the "dates" of servicemen on the WJZ program listed for Monday at 8:30 p. m., EWT.

GOMER

GOMER, June 26—Returning Sunday from a week's attendance at the Defiance Summer Church conference were the following: Rev. C. J. Bradbury, William Evans, Willis Watkins, Betty Williams, Helen Vandemark, Margaret Roberts and Harriet Bradbury. Rev. Bradbury is