

Rich And Boswell Guests On "Stage Door Canteen"

Irene Rich, screen-radio actress, and Singer Connie Boswell guest star with Monte Woolley, the sour-tongued Santa Claus, on radio's "Stage Door Canteen" Friday at 10:30 p. m., over Station WABC. Bert Lytell, as master of ceremonies, will introduce the stars. Music on the show is conducted by Raymond Page.

A girl who never dreams has a dispute with her finance about who's to wear the pants in the family, and it so upsets her that she finally has a strange dream, on the latest "We Who Dream" drama, "The Dream of the Girl Who Never Dreamed," Friday, at 7:15 p. m., over Station WABC. The story takes a surprising turn when she finds out that her husband-to-be and her own mother have had the same dream . . . with different endings! Claire Niesen, radio's dream voice, stars in the unique series.

George Washington never told a lie, which is more than you can say for some of his impersonators, notably Richard Parker, for in "The Parker Family" broadcast over Station WJZ Friday at 8:15 p. m., Richard finds it convenient to resort to doubletalk, in an effort to qualify for the role of Washington in a Fourth of July parade. For his part in a Washington-crossing-the-Delaware float, Richard needs a costume owned by "Talky" Walker and a wagon owned by Fatso . . . and when both decide he chooses his friends on the basis of their potentialities as borrowers, Richard runs into trouble.

With our fighting forces smashing to victory over there, Dr. Frank Black salutes the composer of "Over There," George M. Cohan, with a birthday medley on his concert program Friday at 8 p. m., over Station WEAJ. The medley includes "Yankee Doodle Boy," "Houtrigan," "You're a Grand Old Flag" and other Cohan favorites. The orchestra and chorus also offer "My Temptation" and "Dancing Tambourine." Baritone Ross Graham's solo is "Thy Beaming Eyes," while Soprano Lucille Manners sings "Lullaby," and "The Jewel Song" from Gounod's "Faust."
