

Ne vi Shure's Novel Aired On 'Words At War' Tuesday

The personal problems of love and marriage in wartime is the theme of "Words at War," Tuesday at 9:30 p. m., EWT, over WEAF, when an adaptation of Nevil Shute's novel "Pastoral," will be presented. Neal Hopkins wrote the radio version and Anton Leader will direct. Morris Mamorsky has composed musical backgrounds and will conduct orchestra.

The dramatic story of a doctor on Coast Guard cutter on convoy duty will be enacted by a cast headed by Raymond Massey, when "The Doctor Fights" presents "Balm of Gilead," Tuesday at 9 30 p. m., over Station WABC. Guest speaker on the program will be Dr. Ernst Irons, president of the American College of Physicians.

Havana is the setting for an outbreak of murder, with suspects being culled from a motley crew of refugees, smugglers and expatriates, in Cornelius Tilman's "Murder in Havana" on WEAF's "Mystery Theatre" Tuesday at 9 p. m., EWT.

Andy Talbot, American engineer who has been doing work vital to the United Nations' war effort, finds a murdered man in his room and then discovers that his secret papers have been photographed. A second murder further complicates the case before the American sees thru it

How a fourteenth-century painter gave a harrowing touch of realism to a painting will be the basis of a dramatic story told by Marvin Mueller on WJZ's "Coronet Storyteller" program, Tuesday at 9.55 p. m., EWT.

Mutiny and murder form the background for the trials of George Peterson and Jose Rinaldo, in WJZ's "Famous Jury Trials," heard Tuesday at 9 p. m., EWT.

Two passengers and a sailor, who survived the wreck of the mutiny ship, offer thrilling testimony. However, the surprise dispositions of the ship cook provides the climax.

TAX COLLECTION ON BANK GOODS ASKED

COLUMBUS, Aug. 15—(UP)—David Keating, Columbus attor