

"Emergency Furlough" Aired On "Coronet Storyteller"

Civilians who jauntily forget that there is a war on have caused many a service tregedy. No better example could be given than "Emergency Furlough," narrated by Marvin Mueller on WJZ's "Coronet Storyteller" Monday at 9:55 p. m., EWT. You will want to hear this tale of the sorrow brought to a WAC.

A summer stock actress, a model and a radio actress supply contrasting beauty for six service men competing to take them to New York's Stork club at the sponsor's expense via "Blind Date" over WJZ Monday at 8:30 p. m., EWT. They are Jane Huzzagh, Toni Clark and Susan Douglas, three of the prettiest girls ever gathered together in one broadcast studio. Arlene Francis serves as mistress of ceremonies, with Tom Wallace as producer.

Wounded GIs from battle fronts all over the world -- Normandy, Pacific, Italy, Alaska, Persian Gulf; and Army Air Force pilots and crewmen easing jangled nerves from many combat missions, will be interviewed by Parks Johnson and Ed Sullivan on a Vox Pop combined program with patients of the Army's England General Hospital and personnel in the A. A. F. Redistribution Station No. 1, Atlantic City, N. J., on Monday at 8 p. m., EWT, over WABC.

A dog that not only understood what was being said to him, but also read the speaker's mind, is the subject of "The Story of Canine Joe" on "Cavalcade of America" Monday (WEAF, 8 p. m., EWT).

The little-told tale of the Army's K 9 Corps, as related by a certain Private Pottsy, is unfolded on this broadcast. The private was a little upset when he was assigned the task of training Joe, a collie, to a fighting dog. For instance, Joe was likely to limp on a hike and then have to be carried home, or wangel a lift in the major's boat when the water was too cold to swim.

Battle Looms Over Pricing Of Shuttlecocks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21—(AP) —OPA set a jobbers' ceiling price of $48.06 a gross today on triple-stitched shuttlecocks made from the middle wing feathers of white geese.

Even tho the the graduated maximum price schedules were fixed as low as $25.80 a gross on the poor man's shuttlecock—which is only double stitched and is fabricated from chicken feathers—some Republican lawmakers showed campaign year discontent with the order.

"Shuttlecocks," Senator Alexander Wiley said severely, "are not regarded as a cost-of-living item in Wisconsin."

Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska announced he intends to speak to the senate on the shuttlecock situation.

"This beats anything I ever heard of," he stated.

Nobody here seemed to have any idea how many pounds of feathers are consumed by the shuttlecock industry. A spokesman for the National-assn of Bedding Manufacturers confessed to a lively interest in down and short-quilled feathers as pillow stuffing, but declared the shuttlecock trade uses
