

Battle Score Kept In Unique Chinese Fashion

Chinese soldiers fighting under the command of Gen. Joseph Stilwell have an unusual method of presenting proof of their Jap killings which will be revealed on the "Keep Up With the World," airshow Sunday at 10:30 p. m. (EWT) over WJZ.

The housing problem continues to plague the Rileys, in the airing of William Bendix's comedy program, "The Life of Riley," over Station WJZ at 10 p. m. Riley and his family find that they are regarded as trespassers in their own home after allowing the Larson family to share their house. Things get so bad Riley forces his realtor to find him a beach cottage . . . but that turns out to be slightly worse than a park bench, for sleeping purposes. Supporting Bendix are Paula Winslowe as Mrs. Riley, Sharon Douglas as Babe, Conrad Rinyon as Junior and Charlie Cantor as Uncle Buckley.

Business problems confront Blondie, and Blondie shrugs them off with characteristic verve, when "Blondie Votes Her Stock," Sunday, at 8 p. m., over Station WABC. Tho the more intricate aspects of the situation escape her, Blondie manages to cast her vote in a way that fits both her personal logic and the business logic involved. Penny Singleton as Blondie and Arthur Lake as Dagwood are the stars of this series.

Dolores Gray, the lady with the sultry tonsils, returns to "The Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin Street" to chant a brace of Moondy madrigals on Sunday at 9:15 p. m., over Station WJZ. Sharing the mike with her will be "Dr." Milton J. Cross, Maestro Paul Lavallo and his noisy nineteen.

The lilting song hit of a generation ago "Tell Me Pretty Maiden," sung as a duet by soprano Annamary Dickey and baritone Walter Cassel, both of the Metropolitan Opera, will be featured during the World of Song broadcast over WJZ, Sunday at 4:30 p. m., EWT. Both artists are former winners of the Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air, Miss Dickey winning in 1939, while Cassel received his Met contract after the 1942 series.

BROMFIELD'S HOME AGAIN IN ALLIED HANDS

MANSFIELD, O., Sept. 2 — (AP)—After nearly four years of German occupation, the former home of Author-Farmer Louis Bromfield at Senlis, 23 miles north of Paris on the banks of the tiny Nonette river, is back in American hands.

The forces of Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges recently captured the little town in the drive toward Belgium.

The Bromfield family occupied the house for 12 years preceding the outbreak of the European war. It was there the author did some of his best work.

Bromfield learned soon after the Germans occupied the territory that an enemy shell-burst badly damaged the house. Friends later informed him windows and doors of the house had been
