

Shipbuilder Kaiser On 8 P. M. Program Wednesday

Henry J. Kaiser, the man who does the impossible in shipbuilding, meets Dunninger, the man who does the impossible in telepathy, on Wednesday at 8 p. m., Lima time, over Station WJZ. Kaiser has some revolutionary ideas about postwar construction, which he will reveal only to his fellow judges—Eugene Lyons, editor of "Pageant" magazine, and Joan Brooke, popular songstress. During his broadcast, Dunninger, by reading the thoughts of the judges, will attempt to describe in detail each new idea.

A man plunges over a boat rail to death, and "Mr. and Mrs. North" ask "Did he jump or was he pushed?" in "Murder on a Ferryboat," on Wednesday at 7 p. m., over Station WEAF. Their investigation of the accident (or crime) leads them into equal parts danger and comedy. Joseph Curtin and Alice Frost are starred, as "Mr. and Mrs. North."

Kay, the Ol' Professor, and his lovely bride, Georgia Carrol, will return to the "College of Musical Knowledge" Wednesday over WEAF at 9 p. m., EST.

It will be like old times for the two stars, for the broadcast will be from the Marine Boot Camp at San Diego, Calif. Kyser has not done a show in a radio studio since he first entertained the Marines at San Diego in February, 1941, and it was only strict orders from his doctor which made him take a vacation this summer.

"Arthur Hopkins Presents" Robert Sherwood's "The Petrified Forest" Wednesday over WEAF at 10 30 p. m., EST. Bertram Tanswell, Charles Dow Clark and Dorothy Knox appear in leading roles. First produced by Arthur Hopkins in 1935 in association with Gilbert Miller and Leslie Howard, the star, the play also was directed by Arthur Hopkins.
