over Station WABC. Mr. Dithers finds himself in need of an alert, ambitious young man and Blondie recommends Sterling, ex-delivery boy. Unfortunately, Sterling becomes so good that J. C. fires Dagwood and elevates the office boy to his position. Some double-dealing on the part of Blondie and Dithers is necessary before the situation is righted.

The ghosts that walk on Halloween plague the Riley family in William Bendix's comedy-drama, "The Life of Riley," Sunday at 9 p. m., over Station WJZ. The plot revolves around a spooky theme in which Junior and a group of his friends draw straws to determine who will spend the night in a haunted house. Junior is elected, and Riley goes along to help him overcome the "ghost." The exciting climax is a new departure for "The Life of Riley," as well as a speedy departure for Junior and Riley.

Producer Jim Lawton and his fast-talking secretary obligingly set out to find an abode for a pal. They run into a few difficulties ((spelled "No Vacancies") in "The Case of the Missing House," the latest chuckle and shudder "Hollywood Mystery Time" story, on Sunday at 8:15 p. m., over Station WJZ. Lawton finally locates a house but finds it occupied by a corpse and the amateur sleuths have to solve the murder before the police will release the house.
