

Abbott, Costello "Well-Posted" On

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, who have posted on post-war matters, by the simple posters in front of the post office, take the post at Station WEAF, Thursday at 9 p. m. to give their attention, post haste, to such arise. The comedy pair will be joined, in music, by Connie Haines and Freddie Rich's orchestra.

Dinah's Open House takes on the appearance of a "mad house," when hostess Dinah Shore welcomes strong-stylist Dorothy Lamour and man-chasing Vera Vague as guest stars on her broadcast over WEAF at 7.30 p. m., on Thursday.

Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians will salute the popular music composer Jerome Kern on his Thursday night broadcast. The half-hour airshow is heard regularly at 6 p. m. over WJZ. Starting Thursday, Jan. 4, Waring will move his airtime to 9 p. m. over WJZ.

"Professor" Jerry Colonna will have the opportunity to give his "baritone of baritones" a workout when he appears with Bing Crosby on the Music Hall Thursday at 8 p. m. over WEAF. Eugenie Baird, John Scott Trotter and the orchestra are regular features on the half-hour show.
