

Andy Helps Santa Claus In Riotous Christmas Show

Andy gets a job as helper to a department store Santa Claus, on the Amos 'n' Andy show of Friday at 9 p. m., Lima time, over WEA. He wants to make enough money to buy something nice as a Christmas gift for Amos's little daughter Arabadella. But as he receives the requests of the youngsters who swarm the department store, he realizes that there are easier ways of making a living, and that poor old Santa really has his hands full. Then, on Christmas Eve, Arabadella asks her father to explain to her the meaning of the Lord's Prayer. In simple, homely language, and with a wealth of reverence in his voice, Amos tells the little girl the age-old story that lies within one of the world's most beautiful supplications, as the Paul Taylor Chorus, singing Mallott's "The Lord's Prayer," provides an inspiring background.

The life of the Marquis de Lafayette, French nobleman and champion of freedom and liberty, is dramatized on "We Came This Way" at 10:30 p. m. Friday over WEA. Clifton Utley, well-known commentator, is the program narrator.

"Last Christmas," related Jimmy Durante, "Santa Claus was just goin' to fill my stockin' when he saw me peepin'!" "You put your foot in it then," countered Garry Moore, his partner-in-fun. "Exactly!" replied The Nose. "That's why there wasn't any room for nothin' else!" Jimmy and Garry tell all about their Christmas cross-ups on Friday at 9 p. m. over station WABC. Between laughs, melodious highspots will be supplied by Roy Bargy's orchestra and Songstress Georgia Gibbs.
