

gunners to see tracer bullets in daylight.

Ellery Queen Adventure Centers On Toy Cannon

Harriet Van Horne, radio editor and columnist of the New York World-Telegram, and contributor on broadcasting subjects to national magazines, will be the armchair detective for Ellery Queen's "Adventure of the Toy Cannon," Saturday at 6:30 p. m. Lima time, on WEAJ.

The master detective has a baffling crime to solve for Christmas, and saves a little boy.

Quizzical, whimsical Edward Everett Horton, star of several score film hits, will bring his own inimitable brand of humor to the Barry Wood-Patsy Kelly show Saturday over WEAJ at 9 p. m. This appearance will mark Horton's return to the air as guest entertainer.

The impact of Army life on the average man, and the changes it makes in his relations with civilians, will be dramatized in "Premier for Civilians," on the Army Service Forces series, "Assignment Home," Saturday at 3:30 p. m. over Station WABC. Differences between the civilian and the GI outlook, for which civilians should make allowance, will be stated in this drama, written by Sgt. Arthur Laurents, directed by Major Ed Byron, and produced by Robert Heller. Major Harry Salter conducts the orchestra in the program's mood music.

Elmer Blurt turns Santa Claus for a night and succeeds in giving out the wrong gifts on the Al Pearce "Here Comes Elmer" program, Saturday at 9:15 p. m., over Station WABC. Arlene Harris, the "human chatterbox," gums up the switchboard when she tells the ever-patient Maizie about shopping troubles and Christmas at "The Puny Plaza."

Radio Guide