

Review Irvin S. Cobb's Life On 'Cavalcade Of America'

A preview of Elizabeth Cobb's forthcoming book, "My Wayward Parents," takes "Cavalcade of America" listeners behind the scenes into the early life of the late Irvin S. Cobb in the broadcast Monday, over WEAF at 7 p. m. Screen stars Anne Baxter and Brian Donlevy play the Cobbs.

"Information Please" will travel to Atlanta, Ga., to broadcast its regular program for the benefit of the American Red Cross drive from the Paramount theatre in that city, Monday, over WEAF at 8:30 p. m.

Air-sea emergency rescue squadron men of the Army Air Forces will relate dangerous and dramatic experiences in various war theatres saving combat crews forced to ditch out over land or water, when Parks Johnson and Warren Hull broadcast their Vox Pop interviews from the AAF Emergency Rescue School, Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss., Monday at 7 p. m. over WABC.

Al Johnson, Dennis Morgan, and Francis Gifford will star in the Radio Theatre version of "Swains River," the story of Stephen Foster's life, Monday. The full-hour dramatic airshow is heard at 8 p. m. over WABC.

The Constitution of the United States contains nothing which prohibits a woman from becoming president of the nation.

BUCKET