

Puzzling Death Mystery To Be Aired On Tuesday

Lovely radio star Lesley Woods worries her pretty blond head about a series of puzzling deaths when she appears behind the creaking doors as guest ghostess in "Portrait of Death," a spine-tingling "Inner Sanctum" mystery to be aired over WABC on Tuesday at 9 p. m.

Glady's Swarthout, famous mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Association, will visit the Paula Stone program, Tuesday, at 1:30 p. m. over Station WOR. Miss Swarthout, who has just returned to New York from a concert tour in Canada, will discuss high spots of her career with Miss Stone and her future plans which include three appearances in "Carmen" at New York's famous Lewisohn Stadium during the month of July.

Just honorably discharged from the service, Screen Star Robert Cummings resumes his acting career when he portrays Lt. Com. James Mac Art, medical officer hero of Leyte, on "The Doctor Fights," Tuesday at 9:30 p. m. over Station WABC. The hero of the story was a medical officer aboard the cruiser Birmingham which was part of a fast carrier group heading toward Luzon to bomb Japanese air fields. For his work during this action, he received the Legion of Merit from Adm. Nimitz and was promoted from a lieutenant to a lieutenant commander.

William Gilbert, Queen Elizabeth's physician, discovered in 1600 that innumerable substances which he called "electricæ" acquired the power to attract bits of straw and leaves when rubbed.

QUILNA