

"Victory Parade Of Bands" Salutes Port Of New Orleans

Swinging southward all the way to Louisiana, "The Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands" presents the music of Ted Fio Rito and his orchestra in a special salute to the Port of New Orleans, from the International House in the Delta City with the broadcast to be heard Wednesday at 9:30 p. m. over WOR.

Four outdoors experts offer their suggestions as to the best preventive for ivy poisoning on the "Fishing and Hunting Club of the Air," in its broadcast over Station WJZ, Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. Dave Newell and Jim Hurley, noted outdoor sports authorities, and two guest experts join with Roland Winters, chairman, to answer questions and pass along tips and tall stories sent in by listeners. One woman's question, "Is there such a thing as a left-handed casting rod?" will be answered, and among the tips to be given is a method of removing a fish hook neatly and quickly, when a fisherman hooks himself instead of a fish.

The cause of malaria, man's efforts over a century to combat it, and newest advances of science in fighting it, will be told on "The Human Adventure," in its broadcast over Station WOR, Wednesday, at 10 p. m. This drama replaces the previously announced story on treatment of our wounded in World War II. "The Human Adventure" is directed by Sherman H. Dryer, with John Mallow as narrator. Henry Weber conducts the dramatic music, which is composed by Kenneth Churchill.

Capt. Charles S. Vaughn, of New York and Kansas City, master pilot captain with Pan American World Airways, credited with 84 Atlantic flights, will be guest armchair detective on Ellery Queen's "Adventures of the Man Who Was Afraid," Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. over WABC.
