Alan Young's Memory Gets Going Over In Training Test

Alan (Sluggish Cerebellum) Young, deciding to have the wheels in his head completely overhauled, takes a course in memory training during the "Alan Young Show," Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. over WJZ.

Attempting to dwarf Hubert Uplike's (Jim Backus) mental night, Alan studies hard, but soon discovers that in order to grow a mighty oak, there must first be an acorn. So in desperation, the young comic resorts to methods not according to Hoyle in order to impress his girl friend, Betty (Jean Gillespie.)

Mike (the Falcon) Waring meets an attractive reporter from a photography magazine and is aroused to a sudden interest in cameras only to realize that a dark room is a place where murder can be developed too, in "Murder is a Snap," the "Adventures of the Falcon" drama to be heard over WOR Tuesday, 8.30 to 9 p.m

Fibber McGee and Molly will be along over WEAf at 9:30 p. m. to tickle your funny-bone with their Wistful Vista visitors and humor. This is the show, you will remember, where even the slyly slipped-in commercials draw a chuckle.

At 10 p. m. over WEAf Bob Hope, of the ski-jump nose, invades the atmosphere for another half hour with the cracks and comments that delighted our servicemen and women overseas. The British-born comedian, still playing to soldier audiences, seems a specialist in G. I. jokes, since his close association with the uniformed forces.
