

Ginny Simms To Be Guest On Bob Crosby Show Tuesday

Ginny Simms adds the feminine interest to the Bob Crosby show at 10 p. m. Tuesday over the CBS network.

Ginny will help celebrate a special event for Bob because this is the date set for him to open with his orchestra at the Palladium.

Robert Alda, new screen star who portrayed George Gershwin in the film of the great composer's life, "Rhapsody in Blue" again plays the role of the songwriter when he appears on "This Is My Best" at 9:30 p. m. over CBS.

Alda is cast with Hedda Hopper who narrates the story as if it were one of her gossip strips and the story concerns an obnoxious songwriter who steals songs from his self-sacrificing girl friend.

As guest hostess behind your Host Paul McGrath's creaking door, Betty Lou Gerson plays the role of a mystery fiction writer who makes a killing at her profession in "Skeleton Bay," a spine-chilling "Inner Sanctum" mystery to be broadcast at 8 p. m. Tuesday over CBS.

On his way to hire Mike (the Falcon) Waring for protection, a wealthy black market operator is shot by a man who calls himself the Falcon and lives just long enough to tell the story to the police and plunge Mike into a peck of trouble, in the new case "Murder Is a Killing Business" at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday over MBS.

CIO SEEKS TAG DAY

CLEVELAND, Feb. 5—(AP)—

An emergency measure passed by city council to authorize CIO members to sell tags Saturday to raise funds for striking workers was sent to Mayor Thomas A. Burke today for action. The mayor has indicated he was opposed to the bill and would veto it.
