

Ellery Reigns Supreme Wednesday Radio Shows

Above all radio shows for Wednesday will be the suspenseful. Although intermingled with some comedy and other programs in vein, still they will hold the spotlight for the evening. In the program it will be found that skiing has more pitfalls than a sleuth tumbles on the snow, and Pam and Jerry North learn this from the things in "The Adventures of Mr. and Mrs. North," the mystery starring Allen Joseph Curtin to be broadcast 7 p. m. Wednesday over and Jerry take a brief holiday at a winter resort, but soon find that murder will come out no matter what the locale. Refusing to be daunted by an attempt to keep them off a famous ski trail, the Norths learn there's a good reason for closing the trail—a corpse lies on the path.

Marjorie Rambeau, great lady of the theatre who has emerged from a 10-year retirement to take the starring role in "Dearly Beloved," will be introduced to Ellery Queen when she broadcasts as guest detective on the master sleuth's "Adventure of the Fifteenth Floor" at 7.30 p. m. Wednesday over CBS.

When a sailor, given up for dead, returns to find his wife remained, the result is murder in "The Case of the Homing Pigeon" on the "Mr. District Attorney" program at 9.30 p. m. Wednesday.
