

Reginald Gardiner To Appear On Ginny Simms' Show Friday

Reginald Gardiner, that zany who mimics wallpaper, furniture and railroad trains, brings along his bag of sound tricks to "The Ginny Simms Show" at 7:30 p. m. Friday over CBS.

Hostess Ginny Simms sings several new songs and shares the spotlight with ex-Staff Sgt. Dick Dudley, the week's candidate for Ginney's "Give a Discharged Serviceman a Job" campaign.

The bistro takes on a green hue for St. Patrick's Day when Ed "Archie" Gardner and the gang celebrate during the "Duffy's Tavern" broadcast at 8:30 p. m. Friday over NBC.

Not one to do anything half way, "Archie" plans a party and parade. He even becomes the Irish Orson Welles, and writes, produces and stars in a play titled "I'm Looking At The World Thru Green-Colored Glasses."

Alan (Thug-Thumper) Young, foiled by fabulous Hubert Updike's latest move in a three-cornered game of romance, borrows a vital clue from sleuthing Basil Rathbone during the film star's visit to the Alan Young show at 9 p. m. Friday over ABC.

As ballots are still being counted in the Argentine elections, the former American ambassador to that country, and present Assistant Secretary of State for Latin America, Spruille Braden will appear as the guest of honor on the panel discussion program, "Meet The Press" at 10:30 p. m. Friday over MBS.

Those two bedeviling income tax deductions, Henry Aldrich and his pal, Homer Brown, figure that Friday is as good a day as any to compile an uncalculated amount of mischief, during the "Aldrich Family" comedy broadcast at 8 p. m. Friday over CBS.

With Sam Aldrich buried deep in his tax returns, Henry and Homer innocently contrive to blow
