

Joan Davis Turns Seeress On Radio Broadcast Monday

Joan Davis impersonates Madam Zaza, seeress, and advises Mrs. Hipperton to lend her $2,000 to save the tearoom from being condemned by the fire department during the "Joan Davis Show" at 8:30 p. m. Monday over CBS.

During the seance, "Hippy" insists on consulting her three husbands, all deceased, about the financial matter. Joanie does some fast thinking and has Harry von Zell, Andy Russell and Si Willis characterize the voices of "Hippys" late mates.

The mysterious disappearance and murder of a medical chemist at the University of London, forces Sherlock Holmes to again postpone his contemplated retirement to his bee farm. He pursues "The Adventure of the Vanishing Scientists," during the "New Adventures of Sherlock Holmes" at 8:30 p. m. Monday over MBS.

The Baker-st detective as portrayed by Basil Rathbone develops an active interest in the case when he learns that three of the chemist assistants also have disappeared, together with a priceless quantity of radium. This episode occurs at the time radium was a new substance to the scientific world.

Vox Pop brings first hand accounts of the competition by the nation's king pin bowlers at the American Bowling Congress in Buffalo, N. Y., at 8 p. m. Monday over CBS.

Lana Turner and John Hodiak will star in "Honky Tonk," the rousing drama of a frontier boom town when it is presented at 9 p. m. Monday over CBS.

Miss Turner takes the role of Elizabeth Cotton, daughter of the local justice of peace in a Nevada gold-strike town. Her heart interest is a swaggering, handsome gambler known as Candy Johnson, played by Hodiak.
