

Jackie Coogan Plays Father On 'Forever Ernest' Program

Jackie Coogan is a stand-in husband and father as Ernest Tripp, well-meaning and blundering fountain boy and general assistant in a corner drugstore, on the broadcast of the "Forever Ernest" comedy show at 7 p. m. Monday over CBS.

To save an inheritance "The Kid" poses as hubby and parent to a former Navy buddy's wife and child. Sworn to secrecy Ernest can't explain to his girl, Candy Lane, the druggist's daughter, thus she suspects the worst.

A famed concert singer who is doubling as a spy for a European country, is shot, but her ghost refuses to stay buried during "The Haunting of Sherlock Holmes" at 7-30 p. m. Monday over MBS.

It's Joan "Love in Bloom" Davis when the comedienne takes up fiddle playing for the Swanville musical festival during "The Joan Davis Show" at 7:30 p. m. Monday over CBS. Swanville's Weatherby Bowl, will be the center of attraction when Joan gives out—but not with the fiddle.

There's double trouble at the two dollar window when Bulldog Drummond's friend Danny places a wager on a horse that is a decided long shot during "Death Plays the Races" to be heard on "The Adventures of Bulldog Drummond" at 7 p. m. Monday over MBS.

RADIO GUIDE