

Music Festival Scheduled for Saturday

Singers and musicians, headed by Helen Traubel and Thomas, join their talents in Soldiers Field, Chicago, for the 17th annual Chicagoland Music Festival. MBS will bring the nation the best gala musical program long broadcast except from the

GUIDE

AUG. 19
(Time)

Family Drama—nbc
 in Review—cbs
 in Baseball—abc Orchestras—mbs-basic House—mbs-west
 Pure Sketches—nbc
 ence Talks—cbs
 ber Concert—abc
 e In Variety—nbc
 he Bandstand—cbs
 in Afternoon—mbs
 in Afternoon—mbs
 Guest Speaker—cbs
 acquainted—nbc
 Hollywood—abc
 FL—D Cooke—cbs
 quist and Orchestra
 ic—cbs
 Duke Ellington—abc
 tinued—mbs
 Yours—nbc
 (30 min)—cbs
 rtunity U S A —mbs
 elson Olmstead—nbc
 nding, Safety—abc
 One Hour)—cbs
 s Saturday—abc
 th Interviews—mbs
 nbc
 l (30 m.)—mbs Snooky Lanson—nbc
 om the Rockies—abc
 for 15 m.—cbs
 t for 15 Mins.—abc
 th Comment—mbs

St. Louis Municipal Opera will be heard at 6 p. m. Saturday over CBS.

The finest thoroughbreds in the land will match strides over the mile-and-one-quarter distance for the $15,000-added prize money as "Sports Parade" brings its listeners a description of the running of the Travers Handicap direct from the Saratoga Track, at 4 p. m., Saturday over MBS.

A sentimental mood pervades Red Foley's songs on the "Grand Ole Opry" when it airs over NBC at 9:30 p. m. Saturday.

"I am going to stop going to the movies in the afternoons, because hundreds of youngsters around me insist on eating peanuts, popcorn and potato chips, and make a noise worse than a head of stampeding elephants." This complaint from a listener will be considered by the "Juvenile Jury," at 7:30 p. m. Saturday over MBS, as the children's panel goes into executive session.

"Lights Out," NBC's eerie drama will be broadcast at 9 p. m. Saturday. The thriller-chiller will guarantee radio audiences a "scary" time.