

Troubadour Burl Ives To Star On Musical Americana Show

Burl Ives, the itinerant troubadour who plays his guitar and sings folksongs embodying the traditional melodies of each of the 48 states thru which he has strummed his way, will offer his musical Americana in a new series of programs to be heard over the Mutual network beginning at 8 p. m. Friday from Hollywood.

Jean Sablon, French crooning darling of the bobby-soxers' mothers, will be guest star on the Jack Smith show at 7:15 p. m. on CBS.

The lilting tones of Monica Lewis, lovely singing and recording star, backed by the music of Ray Bloch's orchestra, will be heard in the new musical series "Monica's Music Box," which will premiere over the Mutual network at 8:15 p. m.

Nick Charles gets a lesson in Yogi and his wife, Nora, learns how to diaper a baby in "The Case of the Invisible Infant," a mystery-comedy episode in "The Adventures of the Thin Man," to be broadcast at 8:30 p. m. over CBS.

Daddy Higgins gets caught with his chips down when he uses Baby Snooks as his alibi to attend a Saturday afternoon poker game with the boys, during "The Baby Snooks Show," at 8 p. m. over CBS.

Lanny Ross, concert and radio tenor, has been selected by Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, to give a premiere performance to new songs, words and music written by the AF chief, on the "Highways in Melody" program at 8 p. m. over NBC.

Alan Young woos a wealthy girl from Hubert Updike III and complications fly thick and fast, on "The Alan Young Show," broadcast at 8:30 p. m. over NBC.

Your GI Rights

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
ON SERVICEMEN'S PROBLEMS

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 — (NEA)—Here are some questions from veterans regarding the change in National Service Life Insurance made recently:

Q—I have not gotten along well with my brother since we were children. I am not married, and aside from my brother my mother is the only living relative I have. My mother is the beneficiary of my government insurance. If I should die and my mother got all my insurance, would my brother get that money after my mother's death?

A—Under the present law as altered by a recent amendment, you can name any person you wish as either primary or contingent beneficiary. If your mother dies, and then you die, before you get a chance to change your beneficiary, the insurance will go into your estate, and your brother will get his share of it when your estate is probated. If your mother should receive your insurance and your brother is still alive when she dies, your mother's will will determine whether or not your brother will eventually receive part of your insurance. The only way you can make sure that your brother doesn't get a share of your