

Tact Required in Love Affair On Joan Davis Show Monday

It takes more tact than tactics for Dr. Ronald Crenshaw to square the triangle when Joanie and "Babs" Weatherby measure up for his attentions during "The Joan Davis Show" comedy broadcast at 8:30 p. m. Monday over CBS.

A murder inspired by a priceless black pearl, a May-December romance and a mansion filled with jittery heirs are the intriguing elements in a pulse-quickening tale from the "Casebook of Gregory Hood," to be broadcast at 9:30 p. m. over MBS.

Merle Oberon and Joseph Cotten will co-star in the Lady Esther Screen Guild Players production of "This Love of Ours" at 10 p. m. over CBS.

The story, which was filmed last year with Miss Oberon and Charles Korvin in the leads, concerns a Parisian doctor who marries an American girl.

Jack Benny will play the title role in Radio Theatre's dramatization of "Killer Cates" at 9 p. m. over CBS. Appearing with Jack will be Gail Patrick.

Actor Les Tremayne will be guest star in "Whistle While I Die" tale of a 'perfect' crime which traps the criminal and leaves the victim free on "Inner Sanctum" at 8 p. m. over CBS. A handsome and loving couple, gaily dressed and driving a smart car along sunny southern roads hardly seems a pair likely to be involved in mystery and violence.
