x Pop' Show Tuesday

e from the title of the picture, "The Best Years Of Johnson and Warren Hull round up a group of old interviews on their "Vox Pop" New Year's Eve
m. Tuesday over CBS.

of the Vox Poppers lives have been spent in interection of America, and this group of interviewees, most of whom have appeared on previous broadcasts, will travel to the "cross-roads of America" to tell about their "best years."

The Kingfish gets a job as an insurance salesman during the "Amos 'n' Andy" broadcast at 9 p. m. over NBC. His first victim is Andy, to whom he sells a burial policy with very little trouble. But when it comes time to sell him an accident policy, he finds Andy on the fence. The Kingfish is called upon to use all the tricks he knows to clinch the deal.

A sparkling New Year's Eve program featuring the nation's favorite jump tunes, ballads and blues, selected on the basis of coast to coast poll of famous musicians, bandleaders and vocalists and interpreted by Vera Holly and Bill Harrington will be heard on a special MBS broadcast at 9:30 p. m.

Preliminary reports have it that such tongue twisters as "Hey Bob Ba Re Bob" and "Cement Mixer," jump tunes like "Route 66" and ballads such as "Surrender" and "September Song" are receiving a large number of votes in the nationwide poll and will be found in the program.
