TONIGHT

6:00—KFI—Hilarious chaos can be expected when Groucho Marx guests with Al Jolson. Quips from the wits should fly, but they will bounce off Levant, who can give with the best.

6:00 — KNX — Danny Kaye on "Suspense" . . . and a murderer, too . . . what will they think of next? He thinks of a "Too Perfect Alibi," which casts suspicion on the girl for whom he has killed his rival. His efforts to convince the authorities of his guilt builds to a powerful climax.

6:30 — KHJ — Erskine Johnson interviews Virginia Bruce on his "Hollywood Story" tonight.

7:30—KNX—A minister's faith in two boys who are headed toward delinquency . . . the subsequent proof that faith can "move mountains" is the story behind "Sing a New Song," "First Nighters" offering tonight.

9:00—KFI—George and Gracie will "render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," but will he be able to take them? Romero, Romero . . . wherefore art thou, Romero? Who is the mystery guest of "Burns and Allen"?

9:30 — KECA — Michael Shane makes a trip to Mexico City, but it is not all pleasure, for while he is playing at the gambling casino he is called upon to solve "The Case of the Crooked Wheel."
