TONIGHT

6:00—KHJ—William C. Bullitt, former U. S. Ambassador to Russia, will be the "Meet the Press" guest for this weekly press conference of the air. Mr. Bullitt has just returned from a visit to China.

6:00—KECA—Little Herman and Gov. Bradley sail on a Caribbean cruise at the invitation of the captain of a luxury liner who is sure he is carrying suspicious cargo. The governor and his sharp little pal expose plenty aboard.

7:00—KNX — Listener-contestants shooting for the $16,000 in prizes on the musical quiz "Sing It Again" will have an extra clue to help them crack the riddle of the "Phantom Voice." It is: "There's a clue to his identity in a Stephen Foster melody."

8:30—KECA—No longer doing the nightly platter spin, we now find Hawthorne in his second chapter of "Hawthorne's Adventures." Tonight, as special guest of the wacky disc jockey, we have the unpredictable creator of musical interpretations, Spike Jones.

8:30—KNX—The biggest bank robbery in the history of Oregon, titled the "Case of the Masquerading Gunmen," will be dramatized on "Gangbusters." In the spring of 1947, three criminals took advantage of "Pioneer Celebration" to dress in old-style western costumes, long beards, and rob the bank.

9:30—KFI—George Burns and Gracie Allen will visit "Hollywood Star Theater" tonight to introduce Booth Colman, rising young actor, whom they nominate for future stardom in films.
