Hollywood

By Edith Gwynn

Lovely Rita Lupino (Rita, that is—she's Ida's sister) has been signed for a dancing and acting role in "Ret Hot and Blue," the Betty Hutton starrer.

Practically the entire American film colony that has been staying at the Excelsior hotel in Rome has vacated that spot because of what it considered "the gyp". In the crowd that moved to the Bristol Bernini are Louis Hayward, Alan Curtis, Binnie Barnes, and several others. Hayward writes that the opera starts at 5:30 p. m. there—with nobody seated once the curtain is up. Horse racing goes on daily—and the bets average the equivalent of 8 cents in American money.

Ironically, Marjorie Reynolds has been suffering with a sagging career ever since she did very well for herself as Bing Crosby's leading lady in "Holiday Inn" a few years ago. But she went to England last year and made a big
