TONIGHT

8:00-KNX-Here it is at last . . . Jack Benny makes his long-heralded appearance in the "Horn Blows at Midnight." Jack expects to be vindicated in his judgment of this fantastic tale of a trumpet-blowing angel who is sent down to earth with a horn which he is to blow at midnight and thereby put an end to our earthly woes.

8:30-KFI-Red Skelton breaks into the field of composing with an original number, entitled "Imposition on a Theme." This supplements the usual comedy portions of the program.

7:30-KNX-"Yours Truly, Johnny Dollar," the hard-boiled insurance investigator, runs into a dark plot when he tries to protect the fabulous "Star of Hades" diamond from jewel thieves at the New Orleans Mardi Gras.

8:30-KHJ-The first Hollywood-originated broadcast of "Yours for a Song" will feature vocalists Betty Rhodes and Gordon MacRae. Sheila Graham, it's new hostess, will interview Burt Lancaster, who will reveal interesting sidelights on his meteoric career.

8:30-KECA-"This Is Your FBI" unravels the tale of "The Traveling Corpse." The factual drama involves a corpse in a city morgue, the theft of $80,000 by a bank teller, a suicide note and a wrecked and burned car.

SPECIAL TOMORROW

11:00 a. m.-KECA-"Carmen," Bizet's last completed work before his death in 1875, will be presented by the Metropolitan Opera today. Rise Stevens will sing the role of "Carmen," Nadine Connor the role of "Micaele," and Robert Merrill, the well known baritone, will sing "Escamillo."

2:00-KNX-The Philadelphia Orchestra under Eugene Ormandy will inaugurate its sixth season with the airing of Prokofieff's "Classical Symphony" and the "Symphony No. 44 in E Minor" by Brahms.
