The 200 boys and girls who are here for the 30th annual Wisconsin Music clinic and who are members of the All-State high school band do a lot of work, but they have time for fun, too. Rehearsals and classes take up a good share of every day except Sunday; evenings are free for recreation.

Some of the recreation is planned for and with them by the staff of counselors headed by Fred and Patricia Boots of Madison. Most of it, however, is left to the pupils' own initiative. They are free every night until 9:30, when they must be in their quarters in Chadbourne hall.

This week, the last of the band section's work, had two of the period's highlights—a boat trip on Lake Mendota and the annual stunt night. The former was Tuesday night, the latter Wednesday. About 75 of the youngsters signed up for the journey on the Badger, which was chartered for the event.

Stunt night brought pupils and counselors together in skits which groups planned secretly to surprise their audience.

The clinic also had a picnic July 10 at Hoyt park, saw the second showing of "Badger Birthday" July 13 in the auditorium of Music hall, went to the Cave of the Mounds July 15, and had a dance in the Memorial Union July 16.

The band gave a concert last Sunday afternoon and will give another this Sunday at 3 p. m. in Camp Randall stadium.

Next week, the orchestra and chorus sections will begin work—and play.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Boots, the counselors are Dorothy Engler, New Glarus; Ada Dobbs, Monroe; Adafaye Phillips, Reedsburg; Marvin English, Sheboygan, and Frank Italiano, La Crosse. Italiano also is coach of the band's saxophone section.

DANCE: Members of the dance major course at the university summer session will give a demonstration, "What Is Dance?" in Lathrop hall Wednesday night. Tickets will be required for admission; these may be had without charge at Room 108, Lathrop hall, during office hours.

The demonstrations will be at 7:30, 8:15, and 9.

ART: Five works of University of Wisconsin students are in the exhibition, "Art Schools, U. S. A. 1949," at the Addison Gallery of American Art, Phillips academy, Andover, Mass.

They are "In the Name of Who," wood engraving by Robert Knipschild, "Haybor" water color by Gene Pizuto, "House by the Seashore," tempera by Raymond Obermayer, "Portrait" oil by Sheila Huskins and "Children," encaustic by Wallace Green.

The choice of five works from the seven submitted was something of a coup for the university's art education department. The gallery had announced that it would hang at least three of seven submitted by each of the schools invited to send work, and that "where the quality of work of a particular school was exceptional in relation to other exhibitors" it would choose more.

Twenty-five professional art schools and college departments specializing in creative work were invited to enter the show.

SONG HITS: Here's the current list of top tunes as compiled by the Billboard...

"Riders in the Sky" ... "Some Enchanted Evening" (up one notch) ... "Again" (down from second) ... "Forever and Ever" ... "Baby, It's Cold Outside" (up from sixth) ... "Ball Ha!" (down one place) ... "I Don't See Me in Your Eyes Anymore" (up a peg) ... "A—You're Adorable" (back on the list) ... "The Four Winds and the Seven Seas" (new) ... "A Wonderful Guy."

This department's choices for the best versions of these:

"Riders in the Sky" — Vaughn Monroe; Burl Ives.

"Some Enchanted Evening" — Perry Como.

"Again" — Doris Day; Tommy Dorsey.

"Forever and Ever" — Perry Como; Dinah Shore.

"Baby, It's Cold Outside" — Dinah Shore and Buddy Clark.

"Ball Ha!" — Perry Como.

"I Don't See Me in Your Eyes Anymore" — Buddy Clark.

"A—You're Adorable" — Buddy Clark; Perry Como and Fontana sisters.

"The Four Winds and the Seven Seas" — Sammy Kaye.

"A Wonderful Guy" — Fran Warren; Dinah Shore.
