SINGER KAY STARR FILLS A LYRICAL INTERLUDE as guest on CBS' "Edgar Bergen-Charlie McCarthy Show," as the celebrated imp locks horns with his boss in a court battle over his adoption, Sunday.

The Bergen-McCarthy ruckus starts when Bergen decides it's about time that he adopted the lad legally. Charlie, sensing a scheme to abolish his six-bit allowance, balks at first, but finally yields and the case goes to court. The judge makes a decision that knocks both principals for a legal loop. KTSA-7 P.M.

STUDENT WALTER DENTON SPURS BASHFUL MR. Boynton into proposing to Connie Brooks by urging Professor Lablanche, the French instructor, to give him some real romantic competition, during CBS' "Our Miss Brooks," starring Eve Arden. Sunday, Jeff Chandler plays Mr. Boynton and Dick Crenna is Walter Denton. KTSA-5:30 P.M.

JURY SERVICE FOR WOMEN, AS PROVIDED IN ONE of the state constitutional amendments to be voted on Tuesday, will be the subject of a discussion by Miss Jewell D. Lemons and Miss Helen Girvin, of the Business and Professional Women's Club, on KONO Sunday night. On the same program Miss Kathleen Boyd will discuss poll tax abolition and Com. Dan Traugott will speak on the proposed county warrant issue. KONO-7:30 P.M.

MAYOR JACK WHITE WILL DISCUSS housing in his "Progress Report from Your Mayor" over KITE Sunday afternoon. The mayor is expected to explain his support of the Housing Authority's application for new units. KITE-1 P.M.

EDDIE ANDERSON, JACK BENNY'S FAMOUS ROCHESTER, guests with CBS' "Amos 'n' Andy" in a riotous skit on a loan company, Sunday. De Kingfish talks Andy into advancing the cash to organize a small-time lending outfit, conjuring up a picture of big returns from high interest rates. The first customer proves to be none other than Rochester, who gets a $400 loan as a down payment on a little cottage. But when collection time comes, Rochester defaults. KTSA-6:30 P.M.

RONALD COLMAN PLAYS THE CAPTIVATING ROLE Valentine Brown, an attractive bachelor who invades a stronghold of spinsters, in James M. Barrie's "Quality Street" on CBS' "Family Hour of Stars" Sunday. He stays long enough to interest two sisters, then is off to the Napoleonic wars. Years later, he returns. KTSA-5 P.M.

TWO STARS OF THE METROPOLITAN Opera, James Melton and Dorothy Kirsten, will sing some of the best-loved music of Jerome Kern on "Harvest of Stars" over WOAI Sunday afternoon. Among the songs will be "Look for the Silver Lining," "All The Things You Are," "I Dream Too Much" and "Who." Miss Kirsten and Melton will join voices in the duet,

Girvin

"O Soave Fanciulla" from "La Boheme." WOAI-4:30 P.M.

PIERRE FOURNIER, French cellist, who repeated his European triumphs in this country on his first American tour last season, is soloist with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony under the baton of Leopold Stokowski, in the Schumann Concerto for Violincello and Orchestra in A Minor, on CBS Sunday.

Completing the program are Haydn's Symphony in D (the "Clock"), David Diamond's Overture to "The Tempest" in a new version for full orchestra, in its radio premiere, and Ernest Bloch's Two Symphonic Interludes to "Macbeth," also broadcast for the first time. Maurice Evans, one of the foremost living interpreters of the Bard's classics, reads passages from "The Tempest" and "Macbeth." KTSA-2 P.M.

WHEN CORLISS, boy friend Dexter and Mr. and Mrs. Archer huddle around a newspaper to compete in answering the questions in a "test your intelligence" feature, it's not long before they begin a hopeless debate over which of them is the brightest, on CBS' "Meet Corliss Archer" Sunday. Janet Waldo is Corliss, Sam Edwards is Dexter, Fred Shields and Irene Tedrow are the elder Archers. Felix Mills is the show's new maestro. KTSA-8 P.M.

MARVIN ALISKY, Journalism professor at Trinity University, will begin a regular Sunday night newscast over KMAC this Sunday. Each Sunday at 10 p.m., Alisky will broadcast a roundup of local and Texas news. He will continue his fulltime teaching duties in addition to the new program work. Before joining the Trinity faculty this fall, Alisky had served on the news staffs of WOAI, Houston's NBC station KPRC, and The Austin American-Statesman. He received a master of journalism and a B.A. degree from the University of Texas. KMAC-10 P.M.

MISHEL PIASTRO, conductor of CBS' "The Symphonette" and a concert violinist of international note, joins Joseph Schuster, cellist, in a duo-solo arrangement for violin and cello of Glinka's song "Doubt," in the orchestra's broadcast Sunday. Piastro also directs two excerpts from Wagner's "Die Walkure," Wotan's Farewell and the Magic Fire Music. Frank Knight is host. KTSA-4:30 P.M.

Bing Drives Clunk To Shun Attention

Though Bing Crosby owns several cars, he drives to the CBS studios in a second-hand sedan, as inconspicuous a car as he could find.

TONIGHT

"A resounding hit"

"Exciting... intelligent drama"

"Brisk... lively... entertaining"

That's what drama critics said about

"The TRAITOR"

Don't miss the radio premiere of this tense and timely drama... one of this season's outstanding Broadway plays!
