

DIAL LITES - TONIGHT

- 6:00—KFI—"This Is My Life" . . . the man whose life is to be reviewed tonight has brought music to many millions . . . who is he? . . . listen to "This Is My Life."
- 6:30—KNX—The first lady of the theater, Ethel Barrymore, and the king of the crooners, Bing Crosby, meld their great talents tonight to present a Christmas program with all the traditional trimmings.
- 7:00—KHJ—The two premieres of "Sampson and Delilah," originating in New York and Hollywood, will be broadcast on the Mutual network tonight. From New York, notables will be interviewed at the theater . . . and from Hollywood Cecil B. DeMille and a galaxy of stars will greet the public from the west coast.
- 9:00—KECA—"Buzz Adlam's Playroom" will sparkle with guests and resound with yuletide melodies. The femme spot for this Christmastide broadcast will be filled by lovely Carol Richards, who will range from "Let It Snow" to "Hark the Herald Angels Sing."
- 9:30—KFI—A particularly puzzling pre-Christmas problem presents itself to "Mr. District Attorney" in "The Case of a Present for Jim," in which an estranged couple almost exchange their son for the empty gift of vindication.

TELE-TIPS

- 6:15—KECA--The 50-voice South Central Adult Civic Chorus, directed by Jester Hairston, will present a program of Christmas Carols including "Joy to the World" and "Rise Up Shepherd and Follower."
- 7:15—KTTV—Famous Red Nichols and his Five Pennies will be featured in a new series titled "Collector's Item." In an atmosphere depicting "after hours" in a night club, the boys will play as they please, both their special Dixieland arrangements and new numbers.
- 8:00—KNBH—Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors," the locale of which is ancient Greece will be presented on television for the first time tonight on the "Television Theater."
- 8:00—KTSL—The major feature film on this channel tonight is "Fashion Models" starring Majorie Weaver and Robert Lowery.
- 9:30—KNBH—The chiller, "Maniac at Large," is the mystery play to be seen on the "Clock" series tonight. Nancy Franklin plays the girl who is marooned in a mountain cabin after an auto accident, and lives through a night of horror when she believes her rescuer to be an escaped madman.