

DIAL LITES — TONIGHT

- 6:30—KFI—There is a peach tree in the front yard at 79 Wistful Vista that is badly in need of pruning. As long as this is a job for an expert, "McGee" naturally takes over the job. . . . Poor crop this year.
- 7:00—KHJ—An eerie tale of an old man who searched the city's sewers for old coins and discarded objects will be unfolded by the "Mysterious Traveler" as he explores the "Dark Underworld."
- 7:30—KNX—A special program for the Phila. Bulletin Forum will present a round table debate on the question, "Where Is the Welfare State Heading?" Participants are Gov. Duff of Pennsylvania, Gwilym Price of Westinghouse and Philip Murray of the C. I. O.
- 8:30—KFI—Elizabeth Taylor will be cast as the most gentle and retiring of the three famous Peabody sisters of Salem. "I, Mary Peabody" is the story of her resistance to her dominating sisters. . . . "Cavalcade of America" brings us this historic drama.
- 9:00—KECA—Sen. Scott Lucas (D.-Ill.) and Dr. Laurence Gould, president of Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., will speak on the question, "What Should We Do About Federal Aid to Education?" This broadcast marks one of the initial opportunities of government and education to present both sides of the issue. Tonight's "Town Meeting" comes from Bloomington, Ill.
