DIAL LITES — TONIGHT

- 6:00—KNX—Nothing is sacred to the experts on "It Pays to Be Ignorant," that merry mixture of madness and mayhem, where Duncemaster Tom Howard sets the pace with such questions as "Who invented the Singer sewing machine?" And is answered with "My old man's working on a new invention. It's a square bath tub . . . you can't get any rings around the tub."
- 7:00—KECA—"The Marriage of Ma Hank" turns into a complicated affair . . . the "Lone Ranger" and Tonto go to Modoc to catch the dangerous killer, Billy-Be-Hung. . . . The whole town is attending the wedding, but who is the bridegroom?
- 7:30—KHJ—Railroad hold-ups were frequent in the Old West, and usually these were staged for money. But the "Hold-up at Flag Point" had a different purpose as the "Cisco Kid" was to learn.
- 8:00—KNX—"Mr. Chameleon" is called to investigate the "Childhood Murder Case." A young woman visits an architect and a publisher from her home town and shortly afterward is found murdered. Do these men have any connection with it and why?
- 8:30—KFI—The new ambitions of an old-time gangster's moll are nipped in the bud by "Mr. District Attorney" in "The Case of Deep Water."
