

DIAL LITES — TONIGHT

- 8:00—KFI—Randy Stone, the unorthodox night reporter, becomes involved in a very strange adventure during the "Night Beat" broadcast tonight. Of course this is Friday the 13th which has a direct effect on the news hawk.
- 9:00—KFI—Chester A. Riley purchases an Essex (remember them?) and boasts he will pass the driving test . . . but he does not pass the test and is ashamed to admit it to his family . . . however, he takes his family for a spin . . . and of all things . . . crashes into a police car . . . you take it from here Riley!
- 9:30—KNX—Here is a show that is resuming its broadcasting. Known as "Broadway Is My Beat," the show stars Larry Thor as detective Danny Clover. This is a theatrical beat . . . and offers many unusual crime cases.
- 9:30—KECA—If major crimes in the United States continue at their present rate throughout 1950, an all-time record will have been established by year's end. That will be a disclosure in a message from J. Edgar Hoover, our nation's top "G" man, which will be read between acts on the "This Is Your FBI" program. The story tonight concerns a bank teller titled, "The Phantom Bandit."
- 9:00—KNX—In this original story written by Anthony Ellis, a young gallant by the name of Ferris, who is on a holiday, ends up in confusion of espionage . . . all because of a woman.
- 9:30—KECA—When Ozzie of the "Ozzie & Harriet" team, comes under the spell of spelling it spells something new and refreshing during their situation comedy adventures tonight.

FOOTBALL TOMORROW

- 12:45 A. M.—KECA—Michigan vs. Army.
- 12:30—KNX—Nation-wide football roundup . . . from stadium to stadium.
- 1:45—KFI—U. S. C. vs. California.
- 2:15—KHJ—Stanford vs. Santa Clara.
