

DIAL LITES — TONIGHT

- 6:00—KNX—Agnes Moorehead, first lady of "Suspense" ever since her history-making portrayal of the terror-stricken woman in "Sorry, Wrong Number," returns to "Suspense" as Ellen Johnson in "The Death Parade."
- 7:00—KFI—"Dark Victory," starring radio's brilliant personality Tallulah Bankhead, will be presented in the "Screen Directors' Playhouse" tonight. This takes the place of the previously announced "The Great Lover," starring Bob Hope.
- 8:30—KECA—Departing from its usual format, the "Author Meets Critic" show will present tonight a provocative discussion on "Fortune" magazine, the issue devoted to "U. S. A.—the Permanent Revolution."
- 9:30—KHJ—The "Rod and Gun Club" tonight presents for your listening pleasure, Duke Gendreau, the inventor of the air-boating technique in Florida's Everglades, who will explain how this form of transportation is ideally suited for this area.
