

DIAL LITES — TONIGHT

- 7:30—KHJ—The Mexican border served desperadoes well, both in the olden days and now in our present day of crime. In the old days, fugitives could cross to immunity from either side and "The Cisco Kid" changes things during tonight's episode.
- 7:30—KFI—Bill Stern tells a stirring story tonight of a baseball player who was persuaded by a singer (Perry Como, no less) to give up the sport and pay attention to his singing. The lad named Vito Farinola, did just that and wound up to be the popular singing star, Vic Damone.
- 8:30—KECA—Tonight the president of the Equitable Life Assurance Co. will deliver a speech in lieu of any commercials on the "This Is Your FBI" show. His talk will be on inflation, while the program drama will delve into the solving of a water front robbery case.

TOMORROW'S SPECIALS

- 11:00 A. M.—KHJ—"Symphonies for Youth" today present excerpts from Wagner's "Die Meistersinger" with music by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.
- 11:00 A. M.—KECA—Kirsten Flagstad will sing the role of Leonora in the opera "Fidelio." This is Beethoven's only operatic work.
- 1:30 P. M.—KHJ—MBS presents from Gulf Stream Park, Fla., the "Horning Handicap," the major event in the first week of racing at this track for the season.
