DIAL LITES—TODAY

- 12:00 Noon—KFI—Senators Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D.-Wyo.) and Styles Bridges (R.-N. H.) will take opposing sides in a discussion of "The Battle of the Budget" on the "American Forum of the Air" program, which is moderated by Theodore Granik.
- 1:00—KECA—"The Last Enemy Called Death" will be Dr. Charles E. Fuller's sermon subject for the "Old-Fashioned Revival Hour" today in the broadcast emanating from Long Beach.
- 4:00—KNX—The whole gang will be on hand to help Jack Benny do his packing for his trip to New York. By this time he probably will have found his TV script for the show he will do in Gotham next week.
- 5:00—KNX—Here's a soap opera skit about a pair of Academy Award winners who are married. Scenes are stolen right and left as one performer attempts "topping" the other. The featured players in this skit are Anne Baxter and Charlie McCarthy, who has help from Bergen with his lines.
- 6:30—KHJ—Former Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, member of the "Committee on the Present Danger," appears as the second speaker in the new special series presented in the interest of the current national emergency. The topic is: "The Defense Line of Freedom."
- 9:30—KHJ—Sigmund Romberg's operetta, "The Student Prince," is adapted for broadcast tonight on "The Chicago Theater of the Air."
