TIP O' THE MORNING: There are hints that several "big name" attractions will play night clubs in small cities under a reduced-fee plan.

* * *

Douglas Steensland, conductor of the Elgin (Ill.) Civic Symphony orchestra and Elgin high school band, will direct the Madison Musicians assn. band in the opening concert of a summer series Sunday.

The concert will be at 3 p. m. in Vilas park.

The programs will be sponsored by Local 166 of the American Federation of Musicians (AFM), through a grant from the music performance trust fund of the recording industry; the Madison Vocational school, and the city parks commission.

The band will also give two concerts on Wednesday, with Leroy Klose, public school music director, as conductor. These will be at 2 and 4 p. m.

On Sunday, July 8, Donald Voegeli will direct a 16-piece concert-jazz orchestra in a concert at 3 p. m. Voegeli is musical director of WHA. Uncle Julius' polka band will play at 3 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 5.

Other concerts by the 35-piece Madison Musicians assn. band and their conductors:

Sunday, July 15, Robert Woollen;
Sunday, July 22, Ernest Stanke;
Sunday, July 29, Ralph James;
Sunday, Aug. 12, Walter Fandrich;
Sunday, Aug. 19, Elmer Ziegler;
Sunday, Aug. 26, William Keyes.

This Sunday's program:

"Colorado" march, Holmes; "The Barber of Sexille" overture, Rossini; "Funiculi, Funicula," Denza-Lang; "Russian Caravan," "A Day in Spain," and "Cuban Rumba," Jones;

"Broadcast from Brazil," Bennett; "American Legion" march, Parker; "Sea Medley," Lang; "Zacatecas" march, Codina;

SUMMER THEATER: Tryouts for "Harvey" will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Belfry theater, Williams Bay. This will be third Belfry Players' production of the summer. "Mr. Barry's Etchings" will open tonight and "The Philadelphia Story" will start July 5.

DAVE GARROWAY SAYS: I saw in the papers this morning that a women voters club in New York is recommending that a woman should run for President next year. I'm not so sure that's a good idea. If a woman throws her hat into the ring, by the time the voters figure out what it is, the election will be over.

MOVIE NEWS: Edith Gwynn, State Journal Hollywood correspondent, writes . . .

Beautiful Paula Raymond will play Walter Pidgeon's daughter in "County Line" at Metro. Other toppers are John Hodiak and Audrey Totter. Hodiak replaces Robert Walker, who (as itemed here) wanted to be let out of the assignment, and got his wish with no trouble.

Wonderful (and so true!) definition of Filmville comes from maestro Tommy Dorsey, who opines: "Hollywood is a place where a child actor can grow up to be leading man for an actress who once played his mother!"

You can toss away those rift rumors about the Errol Flynns. True — they've had a few spats recently, but as his recent bride explains, Flynn has been a very sick man for months and suffering great pain with that back injury he sustained last summer. All of which no doubt caused tension and irritability. Now he's much on the mend, expects to discard the brace he's been wearing, and rely only on a cane.

Metro has signed the justly-famed Jack Cole dancers for 15 weeks. That's a long deal for an act of this type. But Cole will furnish mucho choreography besides the talents of his troupe in "The Merry Widow," starring Lana Turner and Fernando Lamas. Obviously this opus is not a victim of the current much-too-low-budget binge.

Bruce Cowling leaves Metro next week to free-lance. Goes right from his role in "Westward the Women" to Universal, where he'll be the main meanie in "Battle of Apache Pass."

DISCS OF THE DAY: Recent popular recordings . . .

 Guy Mitchell with Mitch Miller's orchestra: "My Truly, Truly Fair," a happy, swingy piece, and "Who Knows Love," slow ballad (Columbia).

 Sammy Kaye orchestra: "Please Don't Talk About Me When I'm Gone," a sparkling version of an old-timer with vocal by the Kaydets, and "Come Back to Angouleme," a slightly sleepy import with lyrics by Tony Alamo, Barbara Benson, and male chorus (Columbia).

 Frank Sinatra: "Mama Will Bark," a weak novelty with Dagmar of television, and "I'm a Fool to Want You," a pretty ballad. Alex Stordahl's orchestra assists, but can't do much for Dagmar (Columbia).
